Synthesizing Tradition and Contemporary Design By Chen Zhiqiang

Chen Zhiqiang designs structures that are embedded in their context. In China, he integrates traditional wooden architecture with contemporary methods of strength and durability. In Malaysia, his buildings maintain a cool interior without compromising cultural tradition. In Thailand, he constructs serene environments from temple inspirations, engineered to endure torrential rains. In Singapore, he emphasizes green architecture that reconnects people with nature.