

What is IEPF? Full Meaning, Purpose & Claim Process Explained (2025 Complete Guide)

If you're wondering what is IEPF, it is a government-managed fund that holds unclaimed dividends, shares, and refunds for investor protection. This 2025 complete guide explains the full meaning of IEPF, its purpose, and the detailed claim process. Learn how investors can recover their transferred shares easily through the official IEPF Authority portal.

What is IEPF? Full Meaning, Purpose & Claim Process Explained (2025 Complete Guide)

Meaning of IEPF

The Investor Education and Protection Fund (IEPF) is a government-managed fund that holds unclaimed dividends, shares, and refunds. Care4Share helps investors understand its purpose clearly.

Share Restoration

Once approved, the IEPF Authority returns the shares or refunds to the rightful owner. Care4Share ensures investors know how to track

Purpose of IEPF

IEPF ensures investor protection by preventing misuse of unclaimed financial assets. Care4Share guides users on how these funds

Verification

After filing, the company verifies the claim and supports the IEPF Authority in restoring shares. Care4Share helps investors understand

Unclaimed Shares

Shares and dividends remaining unclaimed for seven years are transferred to IEPF. Care4Share explains the rules and reasons

Filing Process

Investors must file Form IEPF-5 online and submit required documents. Care4Share provides step-by-step assistance to help users complete

Under IEPF

Every shareholder has the right to recover their transferred shares. Care4Share educates investors about their legal rights