Game Overview

In One Sentence

The original Legend of Zelda meets Minecraft with Action RTS combat mechanics.

Abstract

You loot and collect items in your adventures so a skillful blacksmith forges them into powerful equipment.

Platform

Windows.

Theme of the game

Medieval Fantasy

Target Audience

Teens to Adults (Lots of reading, some strategy)

Unique Selling Points

USP #1

Focus on Itemization and Build.

USP #2

Fantasy focusing on Melee over Magic

USP #3

Reusing old overworld mechanics in a new way

Philosophy

Philosophical point #1

Melee in videogames can be as dynamic and fun to use as magic if handled properly.

Philosophical point #2

There is as much enjoyment in building your character correctly as there is fighting the enemy.

Common Questions

What is the game?

A Survival/Adventure RPG

Why create this game?

A lot of developers regard magic as a multi-elemental force with many variables, and box melee in one dull category.

Where does the game take place?

In a made-up fantasy world.

What do I control?

A rookie adventurer who tries to make a name for him/herself.

How many characters do I control?

One.- The Adventurer

What is the main focus?

To get the best possible Equipment and do the maximum quest: "Slaying The Dragon"

What's different?

You will go to many uncommon places to find what you need to proceed.

GUI and Stats

The strengths and weaknesses of the character are defined by these values:

Health Bar

- Definition: The amount of health the player has in a horizontal bar. It fills from 0HP to 100HP
- Use: When the Health Bar is depleted, the character dies.
- Data:
 - 100HP when the character is created.
 - You regain all of your health by going to the church or the barracks. The more injured you are the longer it will take in game time.
 - You regenerate some of your health by some herbs/potions. Up to a cap.
 - Resting grants 1HP per hour up to a cap of 90.
 - You do not regain health by eating.
 - You do not regain health by drinking fluids.
 - You do not regain health if your energy is low.
- Notes: Maximum health can be increased (10 points) by finding Ruby Crystals.

Energy Bar

- Definition: The amount of energy the player has in a horizontal bar. It fills from 0% to 100%
- Use: When the Energy Bar is depleted, the player will pass out.
 - It will force you to rest for at least an hour, regaining 10% energy per hour.
 - Different things will happen after this time.
 - If you are in a safe area (a determined place around the town) you have a 50% chance to get pickpocketed, which will take all of your gold away.
 - If you are not in a safe area you have a 95% chance to get pickpocketed, and the remaining 5% chance to get killed by a randomly selected mob (that correctly applies).
- Data:
 - 100% Energy Points when full.
 - You regain all of your energy by sleeping.
 - You lose energy at a ratio of .1% every 6 real life seconds.
 - you lose energy twice as fast when running.
 - You regenerate energy by eating, up to a cap of 90%.
 - You regenerate energy by drinking fluids, up to a cap of 75%.
 - You regenerate energy when resting, at a ratio of 10% every in-game hour.

Condition Bar

- Definition: Bar underneath the Health bar with greyed-out icons when out of combat.
- Uses: Shows the Condition(s) the player may have at any time from combat.
- Data:
 - Burn
 - Causes: Monsters which use fire for combat. Environmental fire sources.
 - Symptoms: Damage over time, Panic (Random movement..)
 - How to remove: Aloe Vera (Gardening). Wait for it to cool down.
 - Freeze
 - Causes: Monsters which use ice for combat. Places with very low temperature.
 - Symptoms: Movement Speed greatly reduced, Lower health regeneration.
 - How to remove: Use proper equipment. Remove the source of cold.
 - Bleeding
 - Causes: Some mob attacks and thorned plants.
 - Symptoms: Damage over time.
 - How to remove: Wait for it to cool down. Bandages (Bought).
 - Poison
 - Causes: Some mob attacks and poisonous plants. Ingesting poisonous/rotten food.
 - Symptoms: Faster Energy loss.
 - How to remove: Antidote herbs, Garlic.
 - Blind
 - Causes: Some mob attacks, some plants and very dark caves.
 - Symptoms: You have a much greater “miss” chance.
 - How to remove: Remove source.

Skills

- Definition: Your expertise in various tasks.
- Use: General progress of the game.
- Notes: Found in a later section.

Equipment Slots

- Definition: The two items you are carrying in your hands.
- Use: Weapons and Shields go here.
- Notes: Some Weapons use both slots at the same time (Two handed weapons.)

Corner Menu

- Definition: Provides the player with useful information

- Data:
 - Inventory: Shows the items the player is carrying. Starting with a 4x4 slot system.
 - Quest Log: Shows your current mission in the main quest, also contains your diary.
 - Character: Shows in detail all of the character's stats, including Biography Information, Health, Skills, Conditions, Achievements, among other things.
 - Gold Counter: Shows the amount of money the player is carrying.
 - Exit Button: Prompts an exit message.
 - Quicksave Button: Classic Floppy button for quick savestates.
 - Cog Button: Shows your options. Save/Load, Sound and Video Settings are found here.

Scoring

- You use Gold to trade with the merchants in the game. You acquire gold by slaying wild animals (yes even those who shouldn't.) and by selling loot.

Resting

- Definition: Resting affects fastfowards time in 1 real life second ticks equivalent to 1 in-game hour.
- Use: Energy, Health, and Time are affected by Resting.
- Data:
 - You can only rest when out of combat.
 - You cannot rest if you are under the effects of a Condition (i.e. poison).
 - Resting in the wilderness could be interrupted by mobs attacking you.

Win and Lose Conditions

You “Lose” the game if your HP drop to 0, in which case:

1. You spawn at the barracks.
2. You will lose all the gold you have with you.
3. You will lose 5% of the gold in your bank account.
4. Your item's durability will be halved.

You Win the game the moment you slay The Dragon. You will unlock “The Abyss” Zone.

Level Design

There is no “Series” of levels in that you do not need to continue them in certain order. However, certain parts of the game do have a certain soft lock (soft meaning the difficulty of the instance itself will prevent you from advancing any further, instead of a hard lock: doors or barriers.)

Hours of Gameplay

Around 10 hours of gameplay to reach and defeat The Dragon. After that, there is more progress to be made, tinkering with equipment until you have the very best.

Attacking and Blocking

Basic Attacks can be performed by left clicking while holding a weapon in one of your weapon slots. Each weapon has a specific attack cooldown. Basic Attack cooldowns do not interfere with Ability cooldowns. Blocking can only be performed while holding a shield in one of your weapon slots. All shields have a toggle mode for shielding, being active as long as the button is pressed, overwriting any offensive ability.

Abilities

Abilities are combat movements learned by your character that apply besides your basic attack. Some abilities are learned by completing quests, others can be looted from scrolls and found in the Gameworld, and others can be learnt by getting to certain skill in the specific weapon.

NOTICE: EACH AND EVERY NUMBER IS SUBJECT TO CHANGE DEPENDING ON TESTING FEEDBACK, FOR BALANCING PURPOSES.

Skill System

Introduction

The Skill system provides the player with the tools to improve their interaction with the world in different ways. A Skills Unit (SU) is awarded every time the player interacts with the skill increasing item in the correct way (For example, landing a blow to the enemy while holding a Sword Weapon will grant the Player one Sword Fighting SU.) After obtaining a certain amount of SUs (determined by a formula) The player will advance a level in that Skill. The skill cap is 100. The formula for Skill advancement is the following:

From Level 1 to Level 2: 50 SUs are required for level up.

From Level 2 onwards: $X \times 1.075$ in where:

X= Amount needed from previous level.

Examples:

- From Level 9 to Level 10: 89 SU.
- From Level 29 to Level 30: 352 SU.
- From Level 99 to Level 100: 59841 SU.

Utility Skills are unique in that crafting/using higher level items will grant bonus SUs. This means that while any hit with a Sword grants a single Sword Fighting SU; creating a complicated recipe will grant the player several SUs.

You have a series of skills to progress in the game, they are divided in fighting skills and utility skills:

Fighting Skills:

- Sword Fighting.- Swords, Machetes, Sabres, etc.
- Axe Fighting.- Axes, Hatchets, Double Axes, etc.
- Club Fighting.- Maces, Clubs, Hammers, etc.
- Polearm Fighting.- Halberds, Naginatas, Glaives, etc.
- Defense.- Shielding, Parrying, Evading, etc.

Utility Skills:

- Gardening
- Logging
- Lockpick
- Looting
- Cooking
- Fishing
- Mining

Visual Style

The visual style of the gameworld is front-angled pixel art. It borrows from elements in TLOZ: Minish Cap and the Pokemon handhelds series of games.

Gameworld

The Blacksmith takes place in Lamaar; the northeast, most recently funded province in the Gremian Kingdom. Coming from Windleaf Village; the hero of the story emigrates to the Main Town in search of adventure, after many tales about the legendary John Blacksmith; a man whose crafting skills surpass anyone else in the Kingdom.

Primary Locations

Main Town:

This is where the story begins. Thanks to its geographical location, there is an abundance of fish in the area. However, metals must be brought in monthly caravans from the other provinces. The player will spawn in this town, somewhere in the house district.

- A: Smithy.- Owned by John Blacksmith. Here you will buy or obtain your equipment.

- B: Stable.- The player can buy a horse (at a ridiculously high cost) from Roland
- C: Market.- The player can get fresh vegetables and raw materials in this place.
- D: Dead Man Inn.- An Inn run by Sven Goodwill. The first floor is a tavern.
 - The player can rent a room for a night for 1 gold in this place.
 - The player can eat for a day (until the sun sets) with 1 gold in this place.
- E: Fish and Chips shop.- You can get seafood caught in the very docks of the city.
- F1,F2,F3,F4: House Districts. the player's house is located at F4.
 - The player can sleep in the house.
 - The player can save the game's progress in the house.
- G: Barracks.- The armoury and local training grounds are located here.
 - The player can receive training from Giselle Le Grant in this place.
 - The player can heal in this place.
- H: Castle.- Lord Darius Ebonlocke governs the Main Town from here.
 - The player can receive training from Darius Ebonlocke in this place.
 - The player can store money in the first floor, in the Town's Vault.
- I: Church.- Father Horatio runs the church of the God Lum; God of light.
 - The player can heal and pray in this place.

Riverside Town:

A prosperous town due to its vegetable market, sustained by its proximity to Lake Kurdan. It's commerce with the Main Town is mainly due to an exchange between Riverside's vegetables and fruits and Main Town's fish.

- A1,A2,A3: Caste Towers.- Lord Angron Farrowgar and his noblemen run Riverside Town with iron fist.
 - The player can heal in the barracks (A2)

- B: City Vault.
 - The player can store money in this place.
- C1,C2,C3: Market's Row.- Scattered throughout town are the various nomadic outposts of several merchants that compete for the best deals.
- D:
- E: Mina's Valuables.- Goldsmith Mina Fairfax crafts beautiful jewelry for a fee.
- F: Deathrow Prison.- Prison run by Commander Gorm and his famous Headsman Len Abadeer
- G: Riverside Plaza.- Relax and get comfy in the beautiful town plaza.
- H:The church of Lum.- Father Smith leads the clergyman services
- I1,I2,I3,I4,I5,I6: House District.- Houses scattered around the city were build in an uncommon fashion due to an earthquake that created irregularities in the city's terrain a few decades ago.

Darkpass Village:

North Arrow: Road to Forest

South Arrow: Road to Main Town

A:Mana's Workshop.- Mana Oakman leads the village's workshop, an improvised crafting center that has a little bit of blacksmithing, carpentry and ceramics.

B:The Grinder.- A place to buy fresh meat. Literally fresh.

C: Flower hut.- A small plant shop owned by Marcy Phalanx, sells mostly decorative plants.

D, E: Houses.- A two store building containing two houses.

G: Hall.- Small gathering area for reunions. Also home of Elder Hesperus

F:Darkpass Logging Camp.- A place for logging supplies and trading wood.

H:Wolfgang Supplies.- General supplies for adventuring.

Sageroot Temple:

An ancient temple inhabited by monks a few centuries ago. Its name comes from the Sageroot herb that supposedly helped them achieve enlightenment.

Ka'Zad Mountains:

Mountains that home the Dwarves of the Continent. Thanks to restless winter storms; humans have had a very rough time mapping the area, as few have ever gotten past the summit.

Deeptrench Seas:

A row of Seas made out of abysmally deep trenches make up the Eastern Ocean of the continent. It is said the Gods created them when dividing the continents, while the planet was still in its infancy.

Shabaal Desert:

Many stories and rumors have been told about the Shabaal (Demon) Desert, although skeptics regard them as mirages triggered by the scorching heat of the area. The environment has such high temperatures that almost no one settles in it.

Secondary Locations

Biomes:

In order to identify the player's location; the map is divided into segments which are tagged as biomes. Depending on the Biome the player is exploring, the diversity of interactive elements, mobs, and NPC's change. (i.e. Forest, Plains, etc.)

Dungeons:

Dungeons are special locations composed of several floors in which the player must explore the area to uncover items, defeat mobs, and get to the boss room.

Dungeons are randomly generated every new gameplay. The only consistent thing is the boss room, in where the player will receive a special reward for its completion.

Main Quest

Introduction and Setting

The game begins with an introductory cutscene. The player will spawn for the first time in the middle of the town plaza. A message will then prompt telling the player to visit the local Smithy for a starting weapon.

The player will then decide if he wants to take part on the Main Quest right away, do Side Quests, or just free roam as much as desired.

M1.- What time is it?

Quest Chain: The Beginning.

Quest giver: N/A

Story: When he gets inside he will be faced with a VERY long queue, with someone commenting on John's skills with the anvil thanks to an unspecified previous adventure. They will remark on the queue having an approximate two days duration. But then, John will be notified that his supplies caravan was intercepted. He will reluctantly decide to close the store until further notice. The player will be taken out and given the following quest.

Rewards:

- Unlocks "The Errand kid" Quest.

M2.-The Errand kid.

Quest Chain: The Beginning.

Quest giver: John Blacksmith

Story: You can find John any night from 18:00 hrs to 23:00 hrs from now at his house. In here you will ask for your weapon but John will tell you that even if he wanted to make the weapon for you; he doesn't have the materials. He will make a deal with you; if you can get part of his supplies back (which fell to the river when the caravan was raided), He will craft you a copper [select from Axe, Sword, Club, or Polearm weapon].

Rewards:

- Unlocks "Friends with Benefits" Quest.
- One of the Following
 - Copper Sword
 - Copper Axe
 - Copper Mace
 - Copper Rod

M3.- Friends with Benefits

Quest Chain: The Beginning.

Quest giver: N/A

Story: The first day after you finish "The Errand kid.", You will receive a scroll from a kid

sent by John. However, the kid turns out to be an asshole and will refuse to give you the letter unless you give him some food. After you do so, you will receive the scroll; that reads the following:

“Thanks for the crate [PLAYERNAME], now I can finish this week’s schedule. However, it’s not even nearly enough to cover everything i have to do, and the next caravan comes in a month. I offer you a chance to get the adventure you seek and the equipment you need, in exchange of your questing services. If you are interested; come to the Smithy any day from 8:00AM until the sun sets. -Blacksmith”

Rewards:

- Unlocks John Blacksmith as Quest Giver.

JB1.- Gathering Materials

Quest Chain: John Blacksmith

Quest giver: John Blacksmith

Story: John will take you to his storeroom in where he will show you his stock and the list of materials needed for the next shipment. He needs enough Tin to make ten armor sets for the Main Town’s Guard regiment. Since the John uses $\frac{1}{5}$ Tin ratio to create Bronze; you will have to acquire 10 Tin ores. In case you don’t have the mining skill to obtain Tin; John will suggest you visit a small abandoned mine taken over by Trolls (Tin is part of a Troll’s diet.) In exchange of the deal he will give you an Armour set made from spare Copper.

Rewards:

- Copper Armour.

JB2.- The Unbearable Pun

Quest Chain: John Blacksmith

Quest giver: John Blacksmith

Story: A bear from Prosopo Forest is roaming the forest outskirts around the city, making Albert Heart (John’s assistant) nervous about even getting near the town gates. John will ask you to go to the Barracks so Cdr. Lance Fitzroy can dispatch a few men to take care of the beast.

Path A: Report to Lance Fitzroy.

He will thank you for your service to the town’s security and dispatch two Town Guards immediately.

Path B: Slay the bear yourself.

He will arrive just after you finish and compliment on your fighting abilities. He will give you the option to receive training from him at the Barracks.

Rewards:

- Path A: 5 Gold Coins.
- Path B: Unlocks Lance Fitzroy as Trainer.

JB3.- The Way to Darkpass.

Quest Chain: John Blacksmith

Quest giver: John Blacksmith

Story: John asks you to deliver spare equipment to Darkpass Village, located at north of Main Town. You will be received by the owner of the Mill, who may have more missions for you.

Rewards:

Multiplayer

There will be no multiplayer support for this game. However, a scoring system will keep track of other people's achievements and progress in the metagame.
