The San Antonio Spurs will play the Miami Heat in Game 4 of the NBA Finals 2014 series. Miami need to shake off Game 3 and quick. After leaving San Antonio in Game 2 with the series at 1-1 many had thought the Heat could use home court advantage to take control of the series. However, they crumbled in Game 3 and now enter Game 4 at 1-2. Tonight's game will start at 9 p.m. ET and can be watched on TV on the ABC network or online through free live stream

The Miami Heat dare not lose another game tonight at the AmericanAirlines Arena in Miami, Florida. If they do they will have to travel back to San Antonio for Game 5 being 1-3 down, needing to win three straight must-win games to retain their NBA title.
