Gautham just wrings you completely dry with his overplay of emotions in the father-son bonding. The climax is heart wrenching and heartwarming as Surya's failure and also rips downsize his cheek which looks actual. The very best part of the film is the very first fifty percent, especially the slender love in between Surya and also Sameera Reddy, with the scene where Surya succumbs to her in the train is funny and romantic. And also when Sameera claims ultimately-- "I remain in love", with Surya playing about with a toy helicopter at Ft Factor, which offers the very best sight of the Golden Bridge in San Francisco, the love moves your heart. Only Gautham, an enchanting could make such scenes work.

The songs of Harris Jayaraj is first price and also tangy, with meaningful lyrics of Thamarai. This is Harris- Gautham's last movie together as well as the combo is just terrific. 4 of the songs before interval are fired perfectly like a music video clip, with Adiye Kolluthe ... and also Nenjukkul Peidhidum. being the choice of whole lot, while 2 songs post period mars the pace. The songs of the movie and its picturisation will certainly remain the USP of the movie. On the downside, the film is excruciatingly sluggish, and also in the 2nd half plods as the director has no tale to claim. All of an abrupt why did he make his hero bigger compared to life? The Delhi kidnapping and the hero addressing it has been done to draw out his heroism, which sticks out like a sore thumb. Exists not a cut-off age to join the military? Surya's character is far as well simple. The important things concerning a dad backing his son to visit America and sway his woman love simply doesn't wash. An ordinary center course, Tamil family members talking so with complete confidence in English does not gel with customers. The movie demands excellent persistence to sit through as well as is an overdose of emotions. If the movie holds on, it is since of its songs and also outstanding efficiency of Surya.
