@heero17

After i posted my ai viewbot on Zentreyas channel i got emailed this.

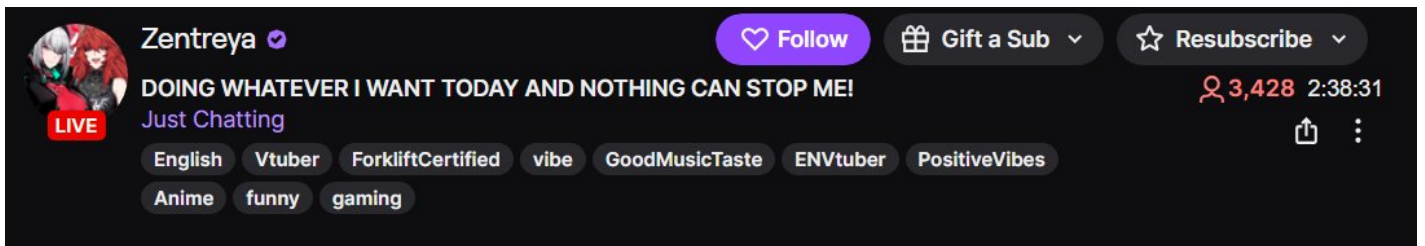

When you see the time only one minute passed and the channel dropped one thousand viewers in one minute.

Guess it just confirms Zentreya viewbots in there channel pretty hard.

The viewer ship is to show this accurate portal statistics of viewership that Koseki Bijou is way popular than Zentreya, even with the use of Zentreya cheating with bribing his way to victory with viewer bots.

Ain't no way Zentreya should have won the vtuber 2024 awards. It's clear Koseki Bijou has the landslide advantage she always possesses. With heero17's evidence it's clear Zentreya likely cheated his way as the vtuber gamer of the year 2024 over Koseki Bijou who the latter as a hololive advent's most popular member put all her hardwork and talent into getting what she rightfully should have earned. Zentreya likely bribed creating as many burner email accounts to get those votes packing in to help him win that reward to sell the lie he is a earned honest winner.

I asked a basic ai bot questions about a twitch channel first question was to count the registered accounts in the channel.
Then i asked it to disable third party outside network numbers.
Then i asked it to count the number of ip addresses in the server channel.
Then i asked it too remove repeating ip addresses in the server channel as well and only count one.
It took a while processing it but it came up with the number 119.
If you think thats insane you should also know ai can dox you by just searching up your email address.

You can even check in real time that most people dont leave in groups of a thousand in one minute mostly and im estimating this 20's and 30's at a time unless they are botted.
To many viewers leaving and joined at once can give this away asmondgold even talks about this alot.
