The 9-4 Ravens can also move up the playoff ranks with a victory, but first have to shake off last week's 31-28 overtime loss to the Washington Redskins.

Running back Ray Rice rushed for 121

Much of Denver's success this season lies with Manning, but the Broncos defense has quietly become a force, ranking seventh against the pass and sixth against the rush.

Quarterback Peyton Manning went 26-for-36 for 310 yards with one touchdown and one interception, but Knowshon Moreno led the offense most of the game with his 119 rushing yards on 32 yards and one touchdown on 20 carries, and Joe Flacco threw three touchdowns, but the offense whiffed on their sole possession in overtime and Baltimore fell.
