

No-Code Automation for Google Workspace?

Empower your team with a powerful no-code automation solution built on Google for Google.

Until recently, the only option for Google Workspace users to automate their workflows has been with Apps Script, which creates serious limitations for some businesses as it requires programming skills to create and maintain the code. A great fit for automating more complex processes, Apps Script automations can be incredibly time and cost intensive to maintain and adapt to your ever-changing business environment, if used to automate all your business' Google workflows.
