Feel Pregnant but the Pregnancy Test is Negative? Here's What you Need to Know

FEEL PREGNANT BUT THE PREGNANCY TEST IS NEGATIVE?

HERE'S WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW

You are pregnant but take the test too early

Testing for pregnancy too soon before the expected period date may result in a negative test due to insufficient pregnancy hormone.

You are pregnant but fail to follow the instruction

A reliable home pregnancy test from a reputable brand always includes instruction. You still have to follow the particular brand's instruction accordingly.

You are pregnant but bought a faulty pregnancy kit

Like any other mass-produced products, a pregnancy test may also be defective when arrived at the store, damaged due to extreme temperatures during transport.

You are pregnant and have rare circumstances

Pregnant women with certain medical conditions have a false negative pregnancy test.

You are not pregnant and about to get your period

Many menstruation symptoms are similar to pregnancy symptoms as the same hormones and body system are involved during this period.

You are not pregnant and are ovulating

Ovulation usually occurs midway through a normal menstruation cycle. Compared to PMS, it does not share as many common symptoms as pregnancy.

You are not pregnant and experiencing psychosomatic symptoms

This situation happens because of your intense desire to get pregnant, causing you to feel like you experience pregnancy symptoms.

www.drlawweiseng.com.sg

This informative infographic aims to provide guidance for women who experience pregnancy-like symptoms but receive negative on their pregnancy tests. It explains the reasons behind false-negative pregnancy test results and offers insights into various factors that can cause such symptoms, including hormonal imbalances, stress, and certain medical conditions. While the infographic provides helpful information, it emphasizes the importance of seeking professional care from a trusted gynaecologist in Singapore.

Source: https://www.drlawweiseng.com.sg/blog/feel-pregnant-but-the-pregnancy-test-is-negative-heres-what-you-need-to-know/

Learn more about pregnancy care and delivery here, https://www.drlawweiseng.com.sg/our-services/pregnancy-care-and-delivery/