

Hello Bag Frame - Multi-Purpose Plastic Frame for Reusing Paper Bags

Currently, many brick and mortar shops, retail stores and super markets still have single-use plastic bags sold as a packing option for consumers' goods. In fact, recent statistics suggest that US citizens use around 380 billion plastic bags each year, which sadly require approximately 12 million barrels of oil to manufacture. That's because American citizens use an average of 365 plastic bags per person per year, while people in countries such as Denmark only use an average of four plastic bags per year. What's even worst is that the over-manufacturing of plastic packaging - which includes plastic bags and other types of plastic containers - obviously also has a devastating impact on the environment, including pollution both on land and also on our oceans. Worst of all, plastic items such as plastic bags can actually take anywhere from 10 years all the way up to 1,000 years to decompose in landfills. Because of these horrifying metrics, more and more retailing stores and super markets are starting to bring back paper bags as a more environmentally-friendly alternative to plastic bags. Lastly, while paper bags can greatly help to lessen the impact we have on the environment, anyone that's truly Eco-conscious can still take an extra step by simply reusing paper bags together with the Hello Bag Frame.

The Hello Bag Frame is a durable and ultra-portable plastic frame that works as a rigid structure to reuse paper bags as a trash or recycling tool while camping, cooking, gardening or cleaning.

With it, you're more encouraged than ever before to go with paper bags over single-use plastic bags whenever you go shopping at your local grocery store or at any local retail stores, which you can then ultimately utilize to reuse those paper bags for a variety of purposes.

Now, let's have a slightly more detailed look at the Hello Bag Frame and check out exactly how it is designed to work.

DESIGN & SPECS

Starting with the Hello Bag Frame's size, this ultra-portable plastic frame is quite compact, as it's approximately the size of a license plate, coming together with just four legs that can be easily attached to it's main top part.

When attached with its four-legs, the Hello Bag Frame measures just 12 inches long by 7 inches wide by 13.75 inches tall.

As said before, this innovative plastic frame isn't only portable, but also, very durable, thus providing people with a rigid structure that allows them to easily reuse their paper grocery bags.

In fact, the Hello Bag Frame is cleverly designed to work perfectly with any standard grocery paper bags. And on top of its ultra-durable construction, the frame itself is also washable. Thanks to its innovative and slim Snap-In Assembly design, it can keep your paper bags sturdy and nicely open, which ultimately makes reusing paper bags both simple and convenient.

Then, once your current paper bag is full, you can simply slide the insert out without disturbing the contents and slip the Hello Bag frame into your next paper bag. Simple to use, simple to dispose of.
