The future of this franchise is incredibly unclear, even though we reached see that our beloved God is still worthy, he is not going to rule his "kingdom" which he based on planet, and also at the end of INFINITY SAGA, we were told that Valkyrie is the queen of Asgard. The choice made by Thor opened up a gate for infinite possibility, and the signing up with of Thor with guardians of the galaxy made it look like he's got something in his mind as well as the kid of Odin doesn't make irrational choices omitting his becoming an alcoholic. With completion of infinity legend, Wonder makes sure to bring a lot of adjustments in the franchise business for ex-spouse spider man carrying iron man's tradition and also falcon doing the exact same for Captain America while they have large footwear to load some personalities will be introduced freshly like Sheng-Chi. Valkyrie given that Thor Ragnarok is portrayed as a leader as well as one who can take responsibility for other individuals. The Thor franchise has a great deal of job to do as Endgame didn't exactly finish every little thing it began a whole new arc.

The things which the Avengers did in the past to obtain the infinity rock has perhaps developed an opening in the textile of truth. Especially when Loki took the Tesseract, as well as this means Loki is still to life BUT as a bad guy and if this holds true then that means Thanos isn't dead either and if they get into the present timeline as well as snap the fingers there may even be 2 Thanos as well as double of Thanos's military which is actually the contradiction of Thanos's ideology. In Thor Ragnarok Asgard was ruined and as guardians chosen Midgard which is planet. After undergoing all this problem to adhere to the prediction which was discussed in Thor Ragnarok, there is some sensible thinking for him joining guardians of the galaxy. His remaining in guardians of the galaxy may even be short-lived and also he may come back to earth, or he might be forced to return to earth. Whatever, Marvel wants for this franchise business it's mosting likely to be completely various, one-of-a-kind as well as great. Thor has the greatest potential for relocating Avengers ahead, and all of us know that Captain Marvel may be the greatest, however Thor is an emotion. His overwhelming stamina as well as badass tool might be back in Thor 4 or might be Guardians of Galaxy 3 which is already confirmed by Wonder. Despite which road Marvel goes down it's going to be amazing.
