

Top Indian Streetwear Brands You Should Know in 2025

Streetwear in India isn't just a trend anymore — it's a full-blown fashion movement. What started in the lanes of Tokyo, LA, and New York has now evolved into a powerful subculture in cities like Delhi, Mumbai, Bangalore, Pune, and Hyderabad. Today, Indian youth are choosing brands that combine comfort, culture, and bold self-expression.

If you're searching for the best Indian streetwear brands or exploring premium t-shirt brands in India, this guide will help you discover the names that truly define the scene — including a fast-growing homegrown brand you shouldn't sleep on.

1. Rabitual — The Hidden Gem Redefining Indian Streetwear

Among all the new-age Indian streetwear brands, Rabitual stands out as a label that blends bold graphics, premium fabrics, and clean silhouettes. Known for its oversized tees, drop-shoulder fits, street-inspired prints, and high-quality GSM materials, the brand caters to everyone who wants elevated street fashion at a fair price.

Why Rabitual Is Special:

- Premium 250–300 GSM fabric
- Unique limited-edition prints

- Gender-neutral oversized fits
- Streetwear inspired by music, culture & urban lifestyle
- Perfect for daily wear and statement outfits

Rabitual is quickly becoming a favorite among streetwear enthusiasts who prefer quality over hype.

2. Superdry India

A globally recognized brand with strong roots in India. Their street-driven graphic tees, hoodies, and jackets blend Japanese graphics with British design.

Why They Stand Out:

- High-end quality
- Bold, recognizable branding
- Street + sport hybrid aesthetic

3. Humancloud

A rising Indian brand offering clean and minimal street fashion. Their oversized tees and relaxed fits perfectly suit the new-gen streetwear vibe.

Known For:

- Minimalist streetwear
- Sustainable fabrics
- Everyday comfort pieces

4. Jaywalking

Jaywalking has built a cult following in India for its urban designs, distressed fits, and raw street culture energy.

Popular For:

- Distressed jeans
- Bold graphic tees
- Grungy, raw street style

5. Fugazee

Affordable and stylish, Fugazee is ideal for beginners entering the streetwear world. From bomber jackets to drop-crotch joggers, they cover most street styles.

Best Picks:

- Street-inspired layers
- Statement prints
- Trendy co-ords

6. Hike Messenger's Merch (Hike Crewstore)

Surprisingly clean streetwear aesthetics with limited-edition drops and minimalist oversized fits.

Highlights:

- Premium fabrics
- Simple yet classy prints
- Limited-availability hype

Why Indian Streetwear Is Growing So Fast

Streetwear in India has exploded because:

- Gen Z prefers expressive, oversized, comfort-first clothing
- Homegrown brands offer premium quality at better pricing
- Street culture influenced by rap, Instagram, sneaker culture
- A shift from fast fashion to curated, premium streetwear

The demand for premium t-shirt brands in India is only increasing, especially for brands offering 250- 300 GSM, custom graphics, and quality stitching.

Final Verdict

Indian streetwear has grown massively — but the evolution is just beginning. While big names dominate with hype and influence, emerging brands like Rabitual bring authenticity, premium quality, and original designs that reflect India's modern street culture.

If you're building a wardrobe that's bold, comfortable, and truly expressive, Rabitual is a hidden gem you'll want to keep in your rotation.