

How to Choose Camouflage Shirts That Will Be Right For You

political correctness

If you have dropped in here to read this article, you are probably in the mood to buy a camouflage shirt. Camouflage clothing is extremely popular these days with men, women and even kids of all ages sporting the military combat look as a fashion statement. It is of course still the most ideal way to dress for hunting as it will allow you to blend in with the terrain and go unnoticed by wild animals that you are trying to hunt down.

Alaska

This article will give you a few pointers about how you can go about choosing the right camouflage shirts.

What is your purpose or intended purpose of the Camo shirt?

You will first need to decide on what you are going to use the shirt for. If you are going to use it for hunting, you will need a camouflage shirt that will serve you well functionally. A good camouflage hunting shirt will have all the features listed below

- It will be UV resistant which will save you from the harmful rays of the sun. Hunting means that you will be spending a lot of time outdoors and it is recommended that you buy camouflage shirts that offer UV protection.
- The material should be breathable - Hunting can easily last a whole day and you want the material to be tough while also being comfortable at the same time.
- Good cover - The primary purpose of a Camo shirt is to conceal your presence and make you look like a part of the background. A good quality shirt will come in a color that will be best suited for a particular terrain. The most common colors available for hunting when it comes to camouflage shirts are desert, bush rag and woodlands.

If you are however looking for fashionable Camo shirts, your choices will be a lot more. You can choose from short sleeve and long sleeve shirts that come in a wide variety of materials. You will find camouflage shirts that are made out of 100% cotton material and you will also find shirts that are made out of a mix of both polyester and cotton. They will come in a wide variety of prints such as army camouflage, purple camouflage, combat prints, military prints and so on. Camouflage shirts will also come in all different sizes and more and more stores are carrying a dedicated line for women as well.

One of the best places to buy Camo shirts would be an online site that is dedicated to camouflage clothing as you will find an abundance of choices at such sites.